This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at `http://books.google.com/`

DR. HOMER EATON

THE Green Mountain State has given many good and able men to the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Among this number and standing in the front rank was Homer Eaton, a native of Enosburg, Vermont, where he was born November 16, 1834.

He was fortunate in beginning his life in a Christian home, with all the helpful influences that were exerted in those days. His mother was a woman of intelligence and Christian character, while his father, a farmer, was a local preacher, who was much sought after as a supply, and who, in 1850, gave up the farm and united with the Troy Conference.

Early in life young Eaton gave his heart to God, and soon felt his call to preach. The home circle was a school in itself, where he received many lessons and began to study the problems of life. Later he attended an academy at Bakersfield, Vermont, where he graduated, and then became a student at the Biblical Institute at Concord, New Hampshire. This was the acme of ministerial training for that day. His preparation, however, was not "finished" when he completed the course of that school of the prophets, but, with an open and eager mind just entered upon its outreach for success, he gave himself to the diligent study of books, and "began at once to take high rank as an effective preacher of the gospel."

He joined the Troy Conference in 1857, where he spent twenty-four years in the pastorate and eight as a presiding elder.

In 1889, at the death of John M. Phillips, one of the Publishing Agents of the church, the Book Committee elected Dr. Eaton to succeed him. His eminent ability in this department was recognized throughout the church, so that each General Conference thereafter bade him keep on in his career of success—the building up of a great Book Concern.

When the General Conference of 1912 decided to elect quadrennially four Publishing Agents, one of whom the Book Committee should designate as the "General Agent," this honor was placed upon this efficient servant of the church. "A worthy crown of a distinguished career."

He entered upon his new and important duties with a deep appreciation of the grave responsibilities and the weighty distinction thus laid upon him; and it was while in the midst of this work, planning to carry forward the large enterprises placed in his hands, that, on February 9, 1913, at his home in Madison, New Jersey, he ceased to labor and to live.

The words of another will fittingly close this memoir:

"Death found him at his task doing the work the church had given him to do, and doing it well, and the church will not cease to cherish his memory or to bless God that his servant was strong and steadfast through many fruitful years; that his faith failed not at any time, and that the labors of his hands were more and more abundant with the multiplying years; that he met Death with hands unstained and heart unsullied, and that when he went away he left as his imperishable monument . . . a greater Book Concern."
